National Youth Work Conference 2010

INTERACTIVE SESSIONS

We are keen to see a variety of opportunities for conference participants to share practice, develop skills and learn how policy can be taken into practice and management. During the sessions, normally set aside for workshops, we are hoping to run in the region of 25 sessions on the day which will include workshops, mini-seminars, lectures and presentations.

WORKSHOP – an opportunity to give a short input on practice area followed by opportunity for participants to engage in learning activities about the practice area.

MINI-SEMINAR – an opportunity to present an area of work in some detail followed by the opportunity for group discussion or question and answer session.

PRESENTATION – an opportunity to present an area of work with limited discussion time.

LECTURE – an opportunity for participants to learn or gain knowledge with no discussion time.

Being Young in Scotland 2009

The Being Young in Scotland survey is commissioned by YouthLink Scotland on a bi-annual basis. The purpose of the survey is to identify the interests and attitudes of young people; their hopes for the future and the barriers and challenges they face.

The results of the 2009 survey will be available in February of 2010. Watch the youth work briefing in the new year for further information and details.
