How might an emergency affect you and your community?

Purpose:

To explore the impact of an emergency on their community and on young people specifically

Time: 30 mins

Resources:

Emergency scenario cards, flip chart, pens, post its. You can use the emergency scenarios provided or you can develop your own based on local places and risks

1. Split young people into groups of between 4 and 6 people. Each group can choose an emergency to work on.
2. Ask the group to read the emergency scenario card
3. Each group to draw a map of their community and how the emergency would affect their community
4. Ask each group to think about how the emergency might affect young people specifically and write or draw their thoughts on the map
5. Feedback – you can ask each group to feed back their top three impacts on the community and top three impacts on young people.
